Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers; the Commons being come thither, His Majesty signified His Pleasure to them by the Lord High Chancellor, that they should return to their House and chuse their Speaker, and present him on Friday next at One o'Clock. St. James's, October 30.

This Day the following Address was presented to His Majesty, and read by Dr. Fothergill, accompanied by a Deputation from the People called Quakers, introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting.

To George the Third, King of Great Britain, and the Dominions thereunto belonging,

The humble Address of the People called Quakers.

May it please the King,

TO accept our Congratulations on the present happy Occasion, and our fervent Wishes, that the Royal Nuptials may be blessed with Felicity, as permanent and unmixed, as the Joy they produce is universal.

From the evident Marks we have seen of thy Attention to the Happiness of thy People, guided by an uniform Steadiness and Prudence, we are perswaded, that in thy illustrious Consort are united those amiable Qualities, which will alike contribute to the domestick Happiness of our Sovereign, and endear Her to His Subjects.

Impressed with such Sentiments, we already regard the Queen with Duty and Affection, and we trust it will be our constant Endeavour, to cultivate the like Sentiments in those among whom we converse; promoting by Example, that dutiful Submission to Authority, which renders Government easy to the Prince, and grateful to the People.

May it please the most High, by whose Wisdom Kings reign and Princes decree Justice, to confirm every virtuous Purpose of thy Heart; and to replenish it with Stability and Fortitude, superior to every Exigency: Long may He vouchsafe, to continue thee a Blessing to these Nations, and thy Descendants, the Guardians of Liberty, Civil and Religious, to many Generations.

Signed on Behalf of the said People in London, the Twenty-sixth of the Tenth Month, 1761.

To which His Majesty was pleased to give this very gracious Answer:

THIS Address, so full of Duty and Affection, is very agreeable to Me. You may depend on My Protection.

Immediately after, they were introduced to Her Majesty, by his Grace the Duke of Manchester, and presented the following Address, which was read by Jacob Hagen.

May it please the Queen,

WE beg Leave to present the Congratulations of the People called Quakers, on thy safe Arrival in this Kingdom, and thy happy Nuptials with our Sovereign.

Such is the Confidence we repose in the Wisdom of our gracious King, and such the Respect which our Principles inspire towards our Superiors, that Duty would have led us, to render to His Royal Consort the Honour due to Her exalted Station.

But when the Voice of the Publick, and of those who have had the Priviledge of nearer Observation, confirm the Prudence of our Sovereign's Choice; both Duty and Inclination engage us to give the Queen every Proof in our Power of a sincere and affectionate Attachment.

To promote this Attachment to the Queen, so justly due to Her Virtues as well as Quality, shall be our Endeavour; and we hope, by a Conduct consistent with such Sentiments, to entitle ourselves to Her favourable Regard.

May it please the Almighty to preserve the Queen ever sensible of His Power and Goodness; may He render Her a Blessing to the King; and Her illustrious Progeny the Support and Ornament of this extensive Empire, to late Posterity.

London, the Twenty-sixth Day of the Tenth Month, 1761.

To which Her Majesty was pleased to give this very gracious Answer:

I Thank you for this Proof of your Affection to the King and Me. You may rely on My good Wishes.

Leicester-House, October 30.

This Day a Deputation from the People called Quakers, being introduced to her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales, by Major Montolieu, her Vice-Chamberlain, presented the following Address, which was read by Dr. Fothergill.

To the Princess Dowager of Wales,

The humble Address of the People called Quakers:

May it please the Princess,

THE Satisfaction we feel in every Event that increases the Happiness of the Royal Family, induces us to wait upon the Princess Dowager upon the joyful Occasion of the Marriage of our Sovereign.

The signal Proofs which the King has given of Wisdom and Ability to promote the Welfare of His Subjects, the eminent Qualities ascribed to His Royal Consort by those who have had ample Opportunities of Information, afford us just and pleasing Expectations;

That whatever Happiness can accrue to the Princess Dowager from an affectionate Discharge of every filial Duty;

Whatever Protection or Encouragement the Deserving and the Good of every Denomination can reasonably desire;

All these may be hoped for from the Virtue and Benevolence of our Sovereign.

Possessed of the dutiful Affection of the illustrious Pair, and secure of the cordial Regard of a grateful People, long may the Princess Dowager enjoy the inexpressible Satisfaction of having, under Providence, contributed so essentially to the Happiness of Britain.

London, the Twenty-Sixth Day of the Tenth Month, 1761.

To which her Royal Highness was pleased to give the following Answer:

I Thank you for these affectionate Congratulations; they are most agreeable to Me, and you may be ever assured of My good Wishes.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes of the Borough of Beverley in the County of York, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Michael Newton, Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen and Burgeſſes of Beverley in the County of York, with great Humility beg Leave to expreſs our moſt ſincere Congratulations on the Solemnization of your Royal Nuptials; an Event of ſo great Felicity to your Majeſty and the whole Nation.

We have beheld with inexpreſſible Pleaſure, your Majeſty's Reign diſtinguiſhed by every Circumſtance of Glory and Proſperity which could infuſe Joy into the Breaſt of a Sovereign, ſtudious of the Intereſts of His People, and jealous of the Honour of His Country. But ſomething remained to ſatisfy the Wiſhes of your loyal Subjects. It was the earneſt Deſire that their Poſterity might not be deſtitute of thoſe Bleſſings, which the preſent Age ſo happily experience; and that the domeſtic Happineſs of ſo excellent a Prince might not be inferior to that, which flows from His Royal and public Station. Thoſe Wiſhes are at length accompliſhed. We ſee your Majeſty's Throne graced with a Conſort, illuſtrious in Her Birth, and adorned with Accompliſhments ſo amiable and diſtinguiſhed, as would derive Merit to any Station, and add Luſtre to the moſt exalted. Such Virtues promiſe to your Majeſty every conjugal Felicity, to your People every national Bleſſing, and to their Poſterity the moſt laſting Advantage.

May the ſame Providence, which has guided your Majeſty in ſo happy a Choice, ſecure to you the long Enjoyment of it: May a numerous Offſpring, the Fruit of this auſpicious Marriage, imitate the Virtues of their Parents, and perpetuate the Glories of their illuſtrious Line; and may every Year of your Majeſty's Reign be crowned with new Honours, and diſtinguiſhed by freſh Marks of the Gratitude of a happy and united People.

Given under our Common Seal, the ſixth Day of October, 1761.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes of Beverley in the County of York, has been preſented to Her Majeſty by Michael Newton, Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament: Which Addreſs Her Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the Queen's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

AMIDST the Joy, ſo univerſally diffuſed through every Rank of His Majeſty's Subjects, permit us, the Mayor, Aldermen and Burgeſſes of Beverley in the County of York, moſt humbly to offer to your Majeſty our unfeigned Congratulations on your happy Arrival into the Britiſh Dominions, and the Celebration of your Royal Marriage. His Majeſty's conſtant Attention to the Intereſts and Welfare of theſe Kingdoms has ever been bleſſed with Glory and Succeſs. But no Event of His happy Reign has been diſtinguiſhed with more auſpicious Omens, nor promiſes greater Good to His People, than His Alliance with a Princeſs, whoſe perſonal Merit and noble Endowments reflect upon Her Anceſtors that Honour which ſhe has received from Her illuſtrious Birth. We behold your Majeſty the glorious Reward of thoſe Virtues, which adorn our Sovereign, and which His loyal Subjects could only admire.

Permit us, Madam, to expreſs our moſt ardent Wiſhes that it be your Majeſty's Lot, long, very long, to enjoy that Felicity which virtuous Minds have ever ranked among the greateſt; a Felicity, reſulting from thoſe tender Relations of Wife and Parent; that the Graces and Accompliſhments of your Majeſty and our Royal Sovereign may afford to your Offſpring a laſting Example by what Means they may attain true Greatneſs and permanent Glory; and that our Civil and Religious Rights may never be deſtitute of a Prince of your Royal Line for their Guardian and Protector.

Given under our Common Seal the 6th Day of October, in the Year of our Lord 1761.

The following Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Nobility, Gentry, and Clergy of the County of Berks, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Arthur Vanſittart and Henry Pye, Eſqrs. To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Nobility, Gentry and Clergy of the County of Berks.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Nobility, Gentry and Clergy of the County of Berks, beg Leave to lay at your Feet our Congratulations on the happy Occaſion of your Royal Nuptials with a Princeſs, as celebrated for Her perſonal Accompliſhments, as ſhe is illuſtrious for the Nobility of Her Anceſtors.

We have always with Reaſon conſidered your Majeſty as the Father of your People, and the Pattern of domeſtic Virtue; we have ſeen and acknowledged you the Guardian of internal Peace, and the Acquirer of Foreign Conqueſts; you have increaſed the Strength of a powerful Nation, and taught it to exert its united Force in ſucceſsful Enterprizes; Plans have been concerted with Wiſdom, and executed with Vigour; the Memory of this auſpicious Æra will be always pleaſing to Britons, who had nothing to wiſh but that their Intereſt in your Majeſty might be inlarged, that you might live in your Deſcendants, and leave them to be the Repreſentatives of your Royal Perſon, and the Object of that Gratitude and Affection which are due to you from your faithful People.

Your Majeſty has been pleaſed to conſult their Happineſs, and to provide for your own by the wiſe Choice of a Royal Conſort. We moſt heartily pray that your Felicity may be perpetual, and that you may long continue to enjoy the Honours of publick Magnanimity, and the Bleſſings reſulting from ſocial Virtue and Conjugal Affection.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Alderman, Recorder, Gentlemen, Clergy, Comburgeſſes, and Burgeſſes of the Borough and Soke and Neighbourhood of Grantham in the County of Lincoln.

FULL of Gratitude for the many Bleſſings we enjoy under ſo great and good a King, we cannot but join the general Voice in expreſſing our Joy on your Majeſty's late happy Nuptials, and the glorious Proſpect from thence ariſing, of a Continuation of theſe Bleſſings to our lateſt Poſterity; nor can we omit to acknowledge your Majeſty's kind Care in the Choice of ſo accompliſhed a Princeſs, diſtinguiſhed for ſo many eminent Virtues, and deſcended from a family ſo particularly attached to the Proteſtant Religion.

May this happy Union produce every public and every private Felicity.

The Happineſs we have enjoyed under the powerful, yet gentle Government of your Majeſty, and the Kings of your Royal Houſe, makes us look upon your Marriage as an Inſtance of the great Regard your Majeſty bears to the Good and Proſperity of your People, and the Increaſe of your Majeſty's Family, which we doubt not but God will grant, as what will give Strength and Perpetuity to our excellent Conſtitution.

That Almighty God, by whom Kings reign, may eſtabliſh your Throne, and crown your Majeſty and your Royal Conſort, with all Felicity; and that your Majeſty and the Princes to deſcend from you, may govern theſe Nations for ever, are the united Wiſhes and Prayers of us your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects.

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common-Council and Burgeſſes of the ancient Borough of Cardigan, beg Leave to approach your Royal Perſon, to congratulate your Majeſty on the important Event of your auſpicious Nuptials.

Conſcious of the Felicity we enjoy under your glorious Reign, we are ſtrongly impreſſed by every Sentiment of Duty and Gratitude, to find your Majeſty's paternal Care towards your Subjects ſo early and ſo nobly extended to Poſterity, in your Marriage with a Princeſs juſtly eſteemed the Ornament of her Sex, whoſe Deſcent is not more noble and illuſtrious, than her own Perſonal Accompliſhments are great and exalted; and whoſe Anceſtors, like thoſe of her Royal Highneſs your Mother, have been ſignally inſtrumental in the Foundation and Eſtabliſhment of the holy Proteſtant Religion, which we hope will obtain a permanent Support from your Majeſty's happy Alliance with a Princeſs whoſe Virtues have thus made her a worthy Conſort for your Bed and Throne; future Generations will participate of this Happineſs, and bleſs the Hour in which the Houſes of Brunwick and Mecklenburgh were united; the Defenders of Religion, and the Patrons of Liberty.

Reigning in the Hearts of your Subjects, and victorious over your Enemies, we have the Pleaſure to behold in your Majeſty, the happieſt and greateſt Potentate on Earth; we ardently wiſh theſe Bleſſings may have a long Continuance; and that this ſacred Union of your Majeſties may be crowned with an illuſtrious Progeny, to rule theſe Imperial Dominions till Time ſhall be no more.

Such, gracious Sovereign, is the grateful Offering of this your ancient Borough of Cardigan, which hath ever equalled the greateſt in Duty and Loyalty to your Majeſty's Family and Government.
